LEGISLATION FOR EX-SERVICE MEN IS OUTLINED

Buron R. Fitts, Past State Commander, Speaker at Local Post Banquet

Buron R. Fitts, past state commander of the American Legion in California and who has been one of the main figures in the national organization since its formation several years ago, was the principal speaker last night at the second quarterly "get together" banquet of Glendale Post No. 127, which was staged at the Chamber of Commerce hall. Mr. Fitts, who, it is stated, has done more in California and the nation toward bettering the conditions of the war's disabled veterans than any other individual, confined his address chiefly to "Soldier Legislation in the United States," discussing both the present and the proposed bills, amendments, and the like.

Particular stress was made regarding the California $10,000,000 bond election, which is to take place next fall for the purpose of carrying out the proposition set forth in the recently passed Veterans' Welfare act. The speaker explained that "the bond money will not increase taxes a cent," all of the money being placed in the hands of ex-service men for a home, farm or education strictly as a loan, which is to be paid back to the state treasury at a reasonable rate of interest.

'Tool of Politicians'
In dwelling on the national adjusted compensation or "bonus" question Mr. Fitts cited a number of instances where the measure has been used repeatedly as a "tool of politicians." He referred to the $155,000,000 which was paid by the government to war contractors following the close of the war, as well as the turning over of $900,000,000 to the railroads for their "so-called losses" during the wartime. He stated that the same amount was turned over to the war contractors is all that is necessary to make the "bonus" bill a reality.

In answering the remark that has been made by numerous opponents of the measure throughout the country to the effect that "the money would be gambled away within a week," Mr. Fitts said:

C. OF C. TO ISSUE BOOSTER BOOK

Sum of $1500 to Be Spent for Publication, Decides Board of Directors

An appropriation of $1500 was voted yesterday by the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce for the publication of a booklet advertising this city, copies of the edition to be placed in the hands of delegates to national conventions coming to the coast this summer.

The special meeting of the Chamber's board was featured by much debate on the topic of advertising and about everybody spoke, including Councilman Sam Davis who said he was one of the "grass roots." He said the latter class of people could tell the directors what ought to be done for Glendale.

Several matters of minor importance were attended to and reports made on several subjects. There will be no meeting of the board next week, but the advertising committee, headed by Lloyd H. Wilson, will be expected to report on the character and cost of the principally picture book to be published in the interests of Glendale.

'Hatless' Hayward Buys Himself Crown

"Hatless" E. P. Hayward went and done it.

He bought a hat today, it is reported. This is the second he has had in a lifetime although his father travels on the road selling 'em.

Inquiry at Hayward & McCarty's real estate office, 142 South Brand boulevard, this morning revealed that the senior member of the firm was shrinking like a violet from the publicity he would obtain if he went to the National Real Estate convention here.

But he wears it wrong side to, inside out or not at all most of the time.

Something to Crow About! All Is Not Lost! Await Song!

"The sad fate of the crowing banty cock, as told by H. J. Windsor this week is touching, indeed," writes N. K. Wilson, who says he lives next to Windsor and provided the rooster for his Sunday dinner.

"To think of a noble life, filled with good work and flushed with the pride of endeavor; to think, I say, of such a life being ended on the dinner table. That is enough to move one to tears.

"But let no one think that all is lost! No, no! The sweet strains of that soothing serenade must go on. For, while the gallant little warrior has gone the way of all flesh, the banner which he dropped soon will be lifted high by his two stalwart sons.

"Soon the sweet sounds of young voices lifted tonight in morning (1:40 a. m.) song will be wafted gently through the window of your sleeping apartment—dear friend, J. H.—and it will then be time for you to make a further investment for your dinner."

Damages of $5,000 for being severely bitten by a bulldog were awarded Mrs. Charles M. Young of 126 Magnolia avenue yesterday in Judge Louis Meyers' court in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Young was visiting in the home of a friend on June 8. She testified that she did not know the dog was in the house. When she went to the window, the animal sprang at her. In order to force him to release his grip it was necessary to throw a blanket over his head and hit him with an oil heater, she said.

Attorney H. H. Harris of 1144 North Brand boulevard, who represented Mrs. Young, states that the jury was only in consultation twenty minutes.

Campers Use Radio To Keep Pace With Civilization

Nowadays one can go away from civilization for either a brief or prolonged rest and still keep in touch with the happenings of the day. This picture shows nature lovers and anglers, way up in the mountains, near Seattle, Wash., with a complete radio set installed on the banks of the Green River.

A DIRECT READING WAVE METER

A wave meter is distinctly a valuable addition to the apparatus of any radio experimenter. If it is properly equipped the wave meter can be used as a miniature sending station, whose wave length can be quickly varied over a considerable range. Used in this manner in connection with a receiving set the receiver can be accurately calibrated for a number of wave lengths and the necessary adjustments noted in a book or sometimes marked on the receiver dials. There is no guessing as to what receiver adjustments are required for certain sending stations whose transmitting wave lengths are known. The wave meter has also numerous other uses and is particularly valuable when it reads directly and is portable.

The wave meter illustrated is not, strictly speaking, new, but it has some points that may be of interest to some of the newer experimenters. Firstly, it is self-contained, with the necessary dry cell battery to operate a buzzer. The buzzer provides the portable device when the meter is used as a miniature transmitter and produces a tone of pleasing pitch, imitating very closely, when properly adjusted a 500 cycle spark transmitter. The oscillating circuit consists of three coils, any one of which may be selected by a switch and a variable air condenser. With these three coils a wave length range of 130 to 3,000 meters is secured.

A hot wire galvanometer is provided, so that the meter may be used in determining the wave length of radiation from either a damped or continuous wave transmitter. A crystal detector and telephone binding posts are provided for cases in which the wave length reading is to be taken on a damped wave transmitter and an audible resonance indication is desired.

The meter is very well constructed, both mechanically and electrically. The panel is of bakelite, all metal parts are well nickel-plated and the carrying case is of polished walnut. A leather handle on the cover adds to the portability of the instrument.

INDUCTIVELY COUPLED RECEIVING CIRCUIT

When two separate circuits are placed near to each other and oscillations are caused to flow in the first, oscillations will also flow in the second circuit. If the second circuit is so adjusted that its frequency of oscillation is the same as that of the first, the oscillations will be of maximum possible strength, depending on the other controlling factors. The two circuits could be so arranged that the magnetic field of the first coil cuts the turns of the second coil in the circuit shown. And in this case the coil in the antenna circuit must be so adjusted that the antenna circuit is in resonance with the oscillations coming to it from the sending station. The second coil should then be adjusted so that the secondary circuit formed by the second coil and the variable condenser is in resonance with the antenna circuit. Of course, both the second coil and the condenser could be adjusted to secure this condition, and, in practice, both are used. It is seen that in this case the detector circuit is removed from the secondary and connected across (or in shunt to) the variable tuning condenser. The secondary circuit may now oscillate freely, and that its resistance is materially decreased.

When the antenna circuit is tuned to the passing radio waves oscillations are set up in the antenna circuit. These oscillations induce oscillations (alternating current) to flow in the secondary circuit. If the secondary circuit is put in resonance these secondary oscillations will be of maximum strength. The current in the detector circuit is pulsating, due to the rectifying action of the detector, and is made to flow because of the voltages across this variable tuning condenser. The small fixed condenser in shunt to the head telephones is charged during each group of oscillations and discharges through the telephones in the customary manner. Sometimes, but not always, the small fixed condenser may be done away with because the telephone receiver cords provide some capacity (condenser effect) in shunt to the receiver magnet windings.

The coupling between the antenna and secondary circuits may be varied without very greatly changing the wave length (or oscillation frequency) of either. Close coupling is had when the two coils are very close to each other, as, for example, when one

Rex, Seer, Mystery Man, Final Times at T. D. L. Today

Rex, the man of mystery, seer and crystal gazer who has astonished the crowds at the T. D. & L. theatre the past two days, will be seen for the last time today at the popular playhouse. Three special performances are scheduled for today at 3, 7 and 9 p. m. to accommodate the crowds who will attend the final presentations of Rex, conceded to be the greatest mental telepathist appearing on the American stage today—bar none, says Manager Allan. What is said to be one of his greatest demonstrations was given last night and will be repeated at the performances today—that of returning to the patrons of the theatre their questions in the sealed envelopes without mutilation after their questions had been answered.

Rex invites those who are skeptical as to the possibilities of thought transference to submit their questions to him. To each, providing they are sensible, he will give careful consideration and a courteous reply. He certainly gives a very high class entertainment and those who go to criticize come away asking "How does he do it?"

Remember today is the last day. Ralph Allan has supplied in Rex one of the few really great vaudeville acts ever presented in Glendale and follows out his slogan, too—regular admission prices.

In addition to Rex the Paramount picture, "North of the Rio Grande," with Jack Holt and Bebe Daniels, is the feature picture. On Sunday the T. D. & L. will present the thrilling western drama, "Tracks," as the feature picture. "Tracks" is the story of the Texas Rangers, filled with romance, daring, adventure and thrills. It is exceptional entertainment and will be offered in conjunction with Harold Lloyd in "Hit 'Em Again," Kinograms, Travelogue, and Alton at the organ.

PASADENA WINNER FROM LOCALS IN BOWLING GAME

Glendale Opens Tourney by Losing Three Straight Games Last Night

The Glendale Elks Team No. 1 of the recently formed 1922 Southern California Elks Bowling association opened its session on the local alleys last night by dropping three straight contests to Pasadena lodge aggregation. From the beginning of the first game it was evident that the Glendale bowlers were "off" their usual form, as was shown in the box score, which gave Huesman, with an average of 182, the only Class A record of the quintet. It is now hoped, as was expressed by Captain Jimmy Apfel following the match, that the squad members have "gotten all of the poor games" out of their systems.

Following are the scores of the three games:

PASADENA ELKS
Robert	150	134	134
McCollum	176	212	21
Christenson	183	191	166
Coswell	208	185	185

Totals	874	969	992
GLENDALE ELKS
Apfel	94	156	140
Viola	176	137	129
Huesman	153	194	129
Coswell	101	157	165

Totals	681	796	804

No. 2 Team Also Loses

The Glendale Elks bowling team were handed a 2 to 1 defeat at the Pier alleys, Venice, last night by the pin busters of Santa Monica No. 2. The beach boys got the jump on the locals in the first game, winning by a fair margin. The second contest was won by ten pins and 1289's boys pulled the third game out of the fire by the steady work of Ed Clark. Next Friday night Los Angeles No. 2 will be entertained on the local alleys.

Oddfellows Arrange Big Ranch Outing

Glendale Odd Fellows are looking forward to the principal event of the summer season, when they gather at Mount Mariah, at Calabasas, for a two days' outing on July 3 and 4, next, which will be featured by a big barbecue, prepared under the watchful eye of Patriarch Pecker on his ranch, situated in a wild mountain canyon which will be roped off on the day the mystic rites are conferred upon what is expected to be the largest class in the local history of the Patriarchal family.

Families of the members of the organization will be welcomed, and, in fact, it is intended that the affair shall be considered a two days' camping trip in the wilds with the sky for a roof, camping equipment and foodstuffs to care for their needs in the stuffs will be carried by the morning and evenings. The noon luncheons will be prepared on the grounds by the committee in charge of the affair.

Representatives from other lodges in various parts of southern California also are expected to be present to witness the initiation ceremonies.

CLUB TO HAVE PICNIC

The Glendale Progressive club will picnic tomorrow noon at Monte Vista park, according to W. E. Kelley, president of the organization. Members will motor to the little mountain grove and gather around the board at 12 o'clock. It will be a great day for Progressives' kiddies, it is predicted.

A bachelor's dream

To every man comes a longing time for companionship and home

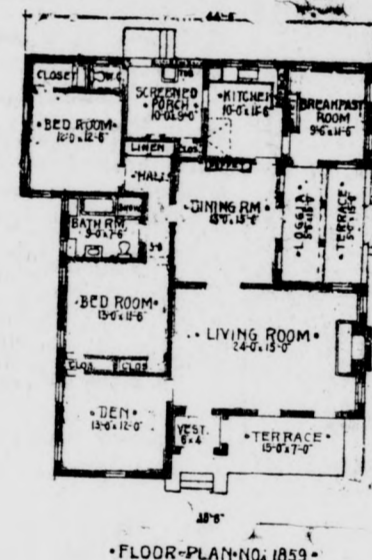

—Bachelorhood is an admittance of selfishness, an existence unpremeditated, acquired through association and from men who boast that good fellowship and freedom from family obligations is the life to be preferred. A few are able to retain these thoughts and continue this mode of living, but the majority soon tire of the farce and come to realize and appreciate that love, happiness, affection and home are the really great and worth-while things to strive for. Sometimes it's the smile or touch of a baby, the gentle care and attention of the nurse during sickness, the thought of coming old age without companionship or protection that awakens dormant men and transforms them into real human beings. More often, however, it is the change of atmosphere, associating and meeting people whose thoughts and actions reflect the good, true and real side of life, and it is the girl you meet under these environments that you are glad to work and make sacrifices for. She in turn will appreciate your efforts and will devote her time to making your life and home the dearest spot in all the world.

—Tonight in your den of loneliness close your eyes and visualize the happiness that you are being deprived of and resolve to fulfil those two moral obligations—Matrimony and Home Ownership.

—The following Progressive Firms and Organizations are co-operating in presenting this weekly educational campaign page to our readers. Read the list. You know them all, and remember, this is their recommendation for you to build a home.

MODERN ELECTRICAL BUNGALOW
This home was built, furnished and displayed by Building Material Merchants & House Furnishers of Los Angeles, Calif. that the public could inspect the latest ideas in both construction, convenience & furnishings.
It was visited by over one hundred thousand persons and pronounced perfect in its every detail.

PLAN NO. 1859.

This wonderfully attractive modernized home of Spanish design has proven to be one of the most popular ideas of late creations. It was built as a model home by building material merchants and furnished complete; it was kept open for inspection for three months and visited by over one hundred thousand persons.

The exterior is of stucco over tile; however, brick, metal or wood lath could be used if so desired. Tile covers the roof and with the dark red brick used under windows, in chimney and exposed part of foundation gives a most pleasing contrast. This pretentious home will cost from seven to ten thousand dollars to build, depending upon the materials and fixtures used.

Compactness and all modern time and labor saving conveniences are included and represents a home that the most critical would be proud to call their own. Complete detailed information will be given by addressing "Home Building Editor."

Dempsey Willing to Fight Harry Wills

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, would welcome a bout with Harry Wills and he is willing to guarantee the title will remain in the hands of a white man after the bout is over.

Dempsey admitted today that he would be criticized for such a match, but said he would not negotiate it unless he was sure to win.

"When I get through with my title there will be no need of digging up any 'white hopes,' for the title is going to stay where it belong," he said.

Dempsey is considerably interested in Harry Greb, but thinks that the light heavyweight title-holder is so small that a match for the heavyweight championship would be ridiculous, to a certain extent.

The champion said he also liked the idea of a match with Bill Brennan at Michigan City.

"I wouldn't ask anything better than to have matches with Carpentier, Brennan, Greb, Wills and even Fred Fulton hanging fire at one time. I don't like theatrical work and I don't like to loaf. I know that a boxer's days are numbered and I want to get mine while the getting is good. Idleness has never appealed to me and it doesn't appeal to me now," the champion said.

California to Score 35
to 40 Points In Track
Duel, Says Writer

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sporting Editor International News-
BULLETIN

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 27.—The husky athletes of the University of California won the annual intercollegiate track and field meet here this afternoon with a total point score of 40 1/2.

CHICAGO, May 27.—Bud Houser, the mighty youth from Oxnard, Cal., hung up a new world's intercollegiate record for the 12-pound shot this afternoon when he heaved the weight 56 feet in the national interscholastic track and field championship meet at Stagg field. Houser's performance in the shot put made it appear almost certain that he would win other weight events and perhaps establish other records.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 27.
—The final events of the intercollegiate track and field championships came down to a decision today with the prospect of another California victory so imminent as to leave little reasonable doubt of its maturity.
If California wins today, which is tantamount to saying if Bryan is a Democrat, it will be the second year in a row that the Bears have won the title. The Bears came on last year to win the title by a score in New York of half a point, but their margin of victory today should be more comfortable.

We have figured them to score between thirty-five and forty points for Princeton, the remaining eastern factor, for twenty-five.
Leland Stanford has better than even chances to break into the money but not as a champion. Its team was prodigal of stars but lacked balance. Much of Stanford's success depended upon the sprinting of Morris Kirksey. He led through the trials yesterday; therefore no idea of his condition could be gained. However, he gave this writer the immediate impression of being sort of a best and for this reason is not placed high in the advance calculations.

How They Look Up
The aptly named Sooden, teammate of Kirksey, was regarded as a better bet, although he faced the sternest kind of competition from Leoney of Lafayette.
Woodring of Syracuse, Lovejoy of Cornell, McKim of Princeton and Lever of Pennsylvania and others.

No California man figured to score in the sprints, although Hutchinson, who won the meet last year, qualified in the furlong.
Hendrixson, however, should score well in the quarter; Merchant and Witter in the shot-put;
Morris in the pole vault; Muller and Treyer in the high jumps; Sorrent and Merchant in the javelin throw; Mullis and Berkley in the discus and the same Merchant again in the hammer throw. This gifted individual is the life blood of the California team.

Records were threatened in many events. Merchant hung up new figures in the hammer throw yesterday, 171 feet 2 inches; Leoney equalled the game's record in the century, 9 4-5 seconds, in winning his heat, and Woodring made no bones about the fact that he is shooting for a new mark in the furlong.
If Merchant scores as he should,
Alvin Kraenslein's individual point record of 18, made many years ago, is in grave danger.

CHICAGO, May 27.—America's hopes in future Olympics dug their spikes in the cinders of Stagg field here today and menaced a flock of interscholastic track and field records that have stood for years. Predictions were freely made that when the finals of the national interscholastic meet are ended late today some new marks for athletes to shoot at in coming years will be established.

Qualifying events staged yesterday did not produce new records because the athletes were performing under restraint. The leash will be off this afternoon, however, and the prep stars of 28 states will be out to show their speed.

Teams from Huntington Beach, Cal.; Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Oklahoma City, Okla., are given the edge in the high school section by the dopesters. With performers qualifying in five events, Lake Forest academy looked formidable in the academy section.
Of the individual stars a lot is looked for from Bud Houser, the weight boosting marvel from Oxnard, Calif. He qualified in the shot-put, discus and javelin without half trying.

California Top Is Considered Necessity

"California Auto Tops, a luxury of yesterday, are becoming a necessity of today," says Mr. Bales, of the Glendale Auto Top Works. "A car does not seem to be complete now unless it is equipped with plate glass in the curtains, both sides and back."

Motorists are fortunate in being able to get this service at home, it is pointed out.

These Spark Plugs Last Over 6 Years

"Say it with flowers" is a good slogan for the florist, and doubtless the sweethearts and wives who receive the bouquets think that a wonderful way for their husbands and lovers to express their feelings of affection. But there are times when "what is said" is more important than "how it is said," and those who receive a good word for the product they sell are the people who don't care so much about how the appreciation is expressed as they do about the message itself.

The other day a letter came to the office of the Western Auto Supply company, in Los Angeles, from a man in the state of Washington, that, as a letter, was not beautifully worded, nor written in fine Spencerian style, nor was it full of useless words. Probably the writer of the letter was more accustomed to handling heavier tools than pens, because the writing was a little rough and irregular, but that letter got a hearty reception at the office of the big company, and a carefully written letter of appreciation went out from the office to the man on his ranch in Washington. The letter said this:

The public is gradually learning the advantage in using only genuine parts in ignition and lighting systems, he says.

"Maybe you would like to know what I think about Western Giant Spark plugs. I put a set in my Ford car six years ago. I wore out that Ford and transferred the spark plugs to another car and now, at the end of six years, they are still in use and giving good service."

Nothing fancy about that, but it tells a story of satisfactory service from a product that has been sold by this big auto supply house for a long time of years on the Pacific coast.

EIGHT RULES FOR BETTERMENTS IN SAFE DRIVING

Mr. Motorist, You Can Help In Making It Pleasant for Other Drivers

Rules for the conduct of motorists in connection with the general welfare of touring throughout southern California have been prepared by the Glendale office of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

According to the auto club, each owner of an automobile in this section of the state has some responsibility in regard to the safety and well being of the entire motoring public.

Here is what you can do, Mr. Motorist, to make things more pleasant for yourself and neighbor in southern California:

First—Report all suspicious appearing cars left in your neighborhood for any length of time. It may be stolen property.

Lock Your Car
Second—Lock your own car when parking it anywhere.

Third—Advise your eastern friends to secure "guest" tags from the Auto club office. It means courteous treatment for them.

Fourth—Do not come to a sudden stop on inter-city boulevards

COSTS OF ROADWAY
Average costs per square yard of various types of paving for country roads in all parts of the United States during the period 1916-1921 are as follows: Sand clay, 18 cents; gravel, 46 cents; plain surfaces treated macadam, 95 cents; bituminous macadam, $2.10; bituminous concrete, $2.50; plain cement concrete, $2.57; reinforced cement concrete, $2.74, and brick, $4.10.

TO STOP HOOD RATTLES
A hood that has a tendency to rattle with the vibration of the engine may be silenced by drilling a series of holes in the band of metal on which the hood rests and threading a strip of leather through the holes. In this way the hood rests on leather instead of metal.

PROPER LUBRICATION
The increased efficiency and pulling power of automobiles are made by lubricating the cars properly. A good grade of oil will also make an appreciable addition to the miles per gallon of gasoline.

without giving proper hand signal.
Fifth—Prohibit your children to play in the streets or highways at any time.

Sixth—Remember that accidents cost Los Angeles $19,870,000 last year and be careful when driving.

Seventh—If your eastern visitor is in doubt where to spend his motoring vacation, advise him to call for help at the auto club.

Eighth—During school vacations do not give strange children rides to the beaches in your car. It encourages runaways and may cost you damages.

Maxwell Clutch Has Demonstrated Worth

When the Maxwell car came out a few years ago with a Raybestos lined clutch running in oil the manufacturers were convinced that they had developed the best clutch used by any automobile.

Their judgment has been confirmed by the years of satisfactory service that the Maxwell clutches have given and through its recent adoption by manufacturers of other makes of cars.

Engineers have been watching the Maxwell clutch during the period that it has been used on the Maxwell car and they all agree on its simplicity, ease of operation, and the fact that it is practically trouble proof.

By a slight change in the operating mechanism on the 1922 models, they have reduced the pressure necessary to throw out the clutch to one-third the pressure previously required, and today the soft, velvety clutch of the Maxwell car is especially appreciated by women drivers, and Lyman P. Clark, of the Glendale Motor Car company, when demonstrating the clutch, easily operated it with one finger.

"Maxwell cars come into our service station that have never had any repair work or adjustment on the clutch during a period of six or seven years they have been in operation," said Mr. Clark.

There are now eighteen states in the Union which collect fees on gasoline purchased within their borders. The rate is 1 cent a gallon, except in Oregon, where the fee is 2 cents.

MAKING HIGHWAYS REAL SAFE FOR AUTO TRAVEL

Club Crew Now Re-Charting
All Roads Leading Into Southern California

One of the biggest annual tasks of the Automobile Club of Southern California has just started—the re-charting of the transcontinental highways leading to the southern part of the state.

The official crew representing the club's signposting department and its drafting bureau is now en route to Kansas City over the National Old Trails Highway. It is probable that the charting car will continue on to New York. Making the plains and deserts safe for California motoring visitors is the purpose of the long journey. The trails across the continent were marked a number of years ago by the club, but it is necessary to renovate the system of signs annually because travelers are continually "shooting up" the metal signs.

To Keep in Touch

As the club crew travels eastward it will keep constantly in touch with the touring bureaus of the organization throughout the southern part of the state so that motorists of any section wishing to tour to the east this summer will have road news hot from the wires.

Work is progressing rapidly on the signposting of the Bankhead or southern transcontinental highway into southern California by club crews, according to an announcement just made here. This will serve to bring in thousands of motoring parties every year.

Signposting work for motorists will be undertaken by the club on the new Mojave-Lakeview route which connects the northern and southern sections of the state, and which is just being completed. This is an important link on the inland route of California.

Other road marking work is also being undertaken by the organization in practically every county in southern California at this time, in anticipation of an unusual summer rush of motorists.

'Speed Wagon' Term Is Wholly for Reo

"Unfair competition" was the term applied by the U. S. Supreme Court in several cases where rival concerns ignored copyright patent laws and attempted to cash in on the reputation of others by paraphrasing well-known trade marks," says Mr. White of the Harry E. White, Inc.

"Now it may have been that the imitations were as good as the original. But, if so, why not let them stand on their own quality instead of trying to mislead customers?"

"In all such cases the Supreme Court has ruled these were infringements on grounds of 'unfair competition,' as they showed an evident intent to mislead buyers, even though the name used was not precisely the copyrighted term.

"All this, apropos of the fact that the term 'Speed Wagon' which designates a specific type of motor truck—a type originated by the Reo Motor Car company, which concern also coined and copyrighted the term.

"Some years ago, when this type of truck began to supplant other types at a rate that was alarming to rivals, several makes began to advertise 'Speed-wagons'—using the term in a generic sense, whereas 'Speed Wagon' means 'Reo' just as definitely as Uneda means National biscuit.

"To the credit of manufacturers, be it said, they all—though some only after strong protest—ceased using the term and adopted others that do not so flagrantly indicate substitution.

"We cannot say as much for dealers and salesmen of some other makes," continues Mr. White.

"We constantly hear that some other dealer said his 'Speed-wagon' was 'just as good as' a Reo.

"In order to overcome this condition and protect a most valuable asset of the Reo Motor Car company, strong arguments are being used to expose these infringements to the motoring public of southern California."

Sales of Nash Are Now Past 100,000

Nash Motors has passed the 100,000 mark in point of passenger car units produced; in actual figures there have been built and sold, since its introduction four years ago, 104,245 Nash passenger automobiles, according to E. B. Sutton of the Glendale Nash Sales, 114 South Maryland avenue.

In April, Nash Motors had the greatest single month's sale of passenger cars in the history of the company, completely overshadowing even August, 1920. Now comes May with orders received up to the fifteenth of the month thirty-one per cent in excess of April. January, February and March started the breaking of records with a volume of sales that exceeded the same 1921 period by fifty-one per cent.

"The reason for this country-wide demand for Nash passenger cars is plain," said C. B. Voorhis, vice president and director of sales of the Nash Motors company. "It is due primarily, I believe, to the excellence of the product and to the fixed policy of Nash distributors and dealers in the matter of service. A good car backed by good service should have no difficulty whatever, over a period of time, in winning the confidence of the buyer.

"That is exactly the position the Nash Motors company and its product are in today. The buyer has confidence in the car itself and in those who stand back of the car. That is why we have been oversold all spring; that is why we cannot begin to build cars enough this month to supply the demand.

"Everything possible is being done to increase our production so that we may be in a position to meet the demand but the policy underlying all these efforts takes into consideration first that quality must be maintained regardless of desired volume."

TWENTY LIVES ARE LOST

Not a mechanical adjustment was made on the hard trip—conclusive proof of the mechanical supremacy of the new Oakland 6-44—more evidence of the "why" of the 15,000-mile guarantee against oil pumping.

It is a victory all the more convincing because it meant the defeat of cars that had for years considered the winning of this annual event their sacred privilege.

Seventy Fords Sold In Twenty-Six Days

They can't get the Fords fast enough to supply the Glendale demand, according to Jesse E. Smith, local dealer, with sales and service at Colorado and Orange streets.

Seventy cars were sold in the first twenty-six days of this month and the only thing holding back his heavy hitting salesmen is the fact that deliveries on some models cannot be made.

Orders for closed cars predominate. All of the employees of the Ford sales and service departments tomorrow will go deep sea fishing on the motorship Moonlight out of San Pedro.

Heinie Morsinkloff, who came from Kansas City three weeks ago to join the sales force, already has turned nine deals, which is pretty fast work for a motor car salesman in a new territory.

CARE OF SPARE TIRES

Spare tires carried on the rear of the car should not be placed near the exhaust pipe. This is a poor practice, as the heat will ruin the rubber composition.

R. L. Webster Likes Brand of Weather

R. L. Webster ★ Ferguson & Webster, Standard garage, 110 South Kenwood, says:

"The weather is too good to allow me to stay at home."

With his family, he motored to Bakersfield, where they spent the week-end with Mrs. R. M. Daniel, who is a sister of Mrs. Webster.

License Plates

Parts of the registration numbers on cars are sometimes hidden by extra tires, bumpers, tail lights or other equipment. This is contrary to the motor vehicle law. Mud and dust at times render these registration numbers indistinct. State laws require that the numbers shall be displayed continuously at all times.

WARNS 'EM OF LAW

At all the entrances to the state of Maryland signs are erected on the highways informing automobile operators concerning points of the state vehicle law and carefully displaying speed limits and traffic rules.

Popularity of Dort Is Steadily Growing

"The Dort is growing in popularity throughout southern California, as is evidenced by the increased sales," says C. J. Ruskant, of the Sunset Motor company, 308 East Colorado street. He asserts that it would be possible to sell many more cars, if prompt delivery could be made, but production has not kept pace with this growing demand.

"Over 2000 unfilled orders are on file in the offices at the factory, which is good proof that the Dort has had a warm reception with the motor-loving public," he said.

No 'Saturation Point'

The registration of motor vehicles throughout the United States for the first months of 1922 is maintaining the average increase of the last seven years. The total registration in 1921 was 10,448,632, which was 1,000,000 over 1920. No state registration in 1921 will fall below 1920 figures.

New Hudson Real Surprise, Is Report

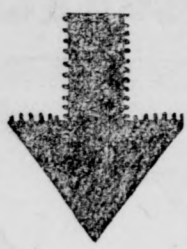

J. B. Kline of the Kelley-Kline Motor company, Hudson agency at 230 North Brand boulevard, states that the new Hudson has arrived and is a real surprise. Those who have ridden in this new car are strong in their enthusiastic praise about the riding qualities and the special new features which have been added to the motor. He says:

"I am very agreeably pleased with the results of our efforts since we opened up a short time ago. Our sales have exceeded our expectations and there is every reason to believe that we will be able to make the same favorable showing with our lines here as is done elsewhere with the Hudson and Essex."

"It is pleasing, indeed, to feel that we have been so graciously received. However, we were confident with the reputation of our line, that business would seek us rather than our having to seek it."

Current leakage may be caused by buckled plates, sediment or a cracked battery jar.

Oldsmobile

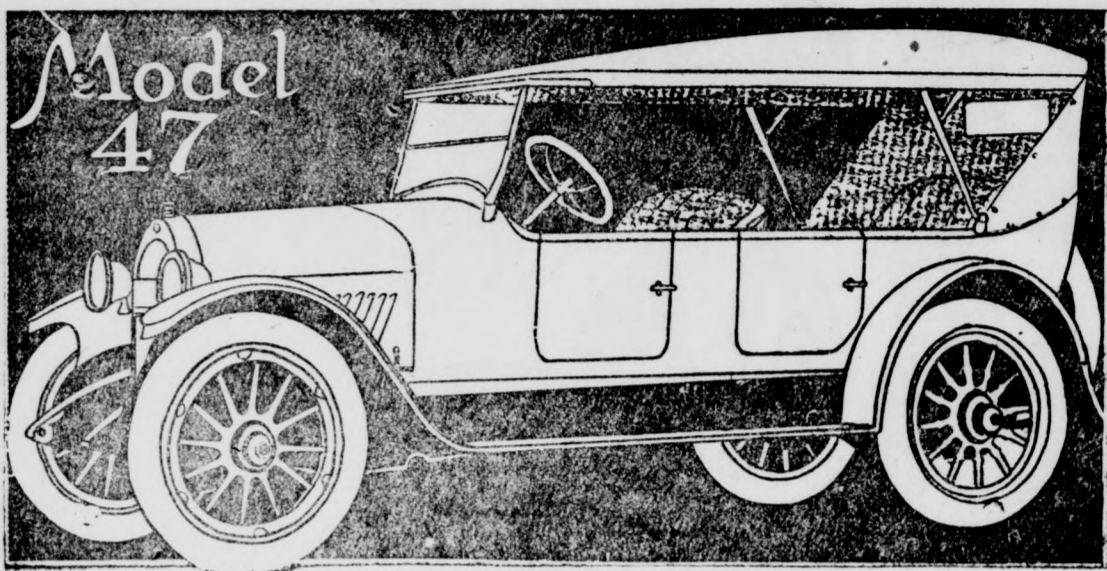

"I'm the Pacemaker"

Oldsmobile Facts

The high speed, long stroke and small bore of the Oldsmobile "8" motor give "overlapping" of driving impulses that send a constant, smooth flow of power to the rear wheels. This means extreme flexibility and dependable pulling ability, even when in high with the motor throttled down.

"BELOW you will see a picture of me. But the picture doesn't show EVERYTHING—there's only one really satisfactory way of finding out how it is I set the pace for all cars, and that is to ride in me. Then is when you'll appreciate what a wonderful motor I have—you'll see me throttle down to one or two miles an hour in high without a grumble, and then in a remarkably short distance I can be roaring over the road at racing speed (it's my two-phase power feature that makes this possible).

"Then, too, when you inspect me at close quarters you'll appreciate the fine craftsmanship evidenced in my design; my long, graceful body-lines that merge with the cleverly designed windshield and top—my nicked radiator and door handles—my beveled rail—and my other appointments all combining to make me the 'PACEMAKER' in every way."

BABE RUTH PUTS PLENTY OF PEP IN BASEBALL

Home Run King Cause of Fans Showing Whole Lot More Enthusiasm

By HOWARD M'GILLIS
Sporting Editor The Evening News
With the return of Babe Ruth to the regular lineup of the New York Yankees, baseball all over the country is picking up from the point of view of the million of fans, whose interest in the great national pastime determines its success or failure. This fact has manifested itself for the past two seasons, ever since the Bambino suddenly changed "overnight" from a pitcher and a mediocre outfielder to the greatest batter the game has ever known. It would not be an exaggeration to state that ninety-nine out of every hundred people in any part of the United States are aware of the fact that Babe Ruth "knocks home runs in baseball." During the latter part of the 1921 season, when it was almost a novelty for Ruth to go through a game without pulling out one of his circuit wallopers, the leading headline (and the only which would attract most attention) in all of the dailies in every city, from the quiet middle western town to mighty Gotham, would, "Ruth Slams Out His 38th Homer," or "The 'King of Swat' Nears Record," or something regarding the popular Babe.

Interest in Rumors
During the suspension period of Ruth, which was inflicted upon the batting star by Judge K. M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, until May 20, the best thing that the sporting writers could interest their readers in were "guard-house" rumors, new rivals for Ruth and similar happenings of the baseball world. Now, however, all an inspiring scribe has to do to "put it over" is to write an article on Ruth's return to the game, his inability to get a home run in the first two games of "his" season last year's mark of sixty-nine? It is more likely that Ruth has more active followers at this time than has been enjoyed by any other man in the country's history.

Too much has been expected of the slugging sultan in the games played to date, some of his followers appearing surprised because he failed to "start where he left off" last season with four or five homers a week. He certainly would be a miracle man in very sense of the word were he able to face the pitchers of opposing teams after several months' rest with the same ability and dexterity which he possessed in 1921. It won't be long before the "ole boy" will have found his batting eye again, will be closing up the gap between himself and his many "dark horse" rivals.

Clamoring For Bout

Now that Harry Greb, Pittsburg battler, has stowed Gene Tunney of New York away for the light heavyweight championship of America, fight fans all over the country are clamoring for a bout or the worst of it with Georges Carpentier, the French idol who recently flattened Kid Lewis of Australia in a single round. Such an event would be more popular and would probably attract a larger gallery than did the Carpentier-Dempsey fracas at Jersey City last year. Carpentier is generally considered as being the second best boxer in the game, while Greb's excellent record of the past few months should give him a right to take his initial stepping stone to a fight with Dempsey. Should the Pittsburg score a decisive win over "Gentleman Georges" it is practically a certainty that he would be given a chance at Dempsey.

Tex Rickard, who has staged most of this country's big fights during the past few years, is promoting the affair with the plan to sign them up for a bout in this country some time this year. It is believed that Carpentier, who is aware of the manner in which the Americans pour out their money for championship events, would not be averse to staging the battle in this country.

S. C. Tucker Plans to Open Drug Store, Lexington & Brand

A lease has just been closed through W. H. Muller of 205-A North Brand boulevard for the northeast corner of Lexington drive and Brand boulevard, with S. C. Tucker. The latter will open a drug store, which, according to the Western Wholesale Drug company, will be one of the finest in Glendale. It will operate under the name of the Lexington Drug company.

The fixtures already have been purchased and will be installed soon, according to Mr. Tucker, who has served as mayor of Champaign, Ill., for four consecutive terms. He recently came to California as a tourist, arriving first in Los Angeles. He spent considerable time sightseeing in and around the metropolis, with no particular thought of locating on the coast.

During the course of his tours he visited Glendale with the result that he immediately decided to go into business in "the fastest growing city in America." His resignation as mayor of Champaign was tendered, but acceptance was deferred. Since coming to Glendale he has become such an ardent booster that he has been nicknamed "Glen."

Look within for happiness. Troubles will come without being looked for.

Riot Scene Staged at High School Gym

Coach Hayhurst started his spring football practice yesterday. It wasn't out on football field nor was the object of play a football. The practice referred to was a scrimmage of about twenty-five boys in the gymnasium, each for himself, and the object was candy, or to be specific, a five-pound box of chocolates.

It seems that The Explosion, the high school paper, has been conducting a contest for the sale of advertising-trade tickets. It offered a five-pound box of chocolates to the roll room in the school which bought the most tickets and a two-pound box to the individual buying the most tickets. Which, when considered, is a strong inducement to buy.

The contest closed Tuesday and the first prize was awarded to Coach N. C. Hayhurst's roll room of senior boys, most of whom are huskies. And then the fun began. The coach entered the gym with the big box yesterday morning. There were wild howls and a mad rush. Just imagine twenty-five boys yelling, struggling, and fighting to get near that box of chocolates. It was a regular mob scene. The big surprise was that the coach ever came out of that riot alive. After two layers had disappeared, he resorted to strategy. He put all the boys in a boxing ring that had been roped off and then tossed chocolates to the mob. As each chocolate went into the air, twenty-five boys leaped for it and fought for it. However, the five-pound box was soon empty and the conclusion drawn was that senior boys are rather fond of chocolates.

Paul Hutchinson won the individual contest by buying 142

Harry Wills' Hands Too Weak, Asserted

By DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, May 27.—Harry Wills tates a bad pair of hands. This is not meant in the sense that they are ruinous to the first jaw they land on, but that they are unsound. A critic of no slight reputation examined the members in question and, according to his report, they are so badly mashed up from thumping numerous heads, mostly of Ethiopian, as to be quite fragile. This is a most serious matter to a pugilist, particularly a hard-punching heavyweight. "We have no doubt there is trade tickets, or $35.50 worth. However, nothing has been seen of his two-pound box of chocolates.

more truth than claptrap about the report. The critic in question is above suspicion in the matter of judgment. If he says Wills' hands are inclined to be brittle, then write it down in the family bible. Such being the case quite a different light is thrown upon the prospective Dempsey-Wills bout for the heavyweight championship, a bout that is bound to be held some where, some time. If Carpentier, a remarkable hitter with his right, was able to cross one twice to Dempsey's jaw in a single round without causing the champion to forsake the perpendicular, what chance has Wills, if his hands will not stand the punishment? That Wills hits harder than Carpentier only means that the strain on his hands will be that much greater. Some have a hard time picking out a car for heaven because all the lower berths seem to be taken.

WESTERN GIANT CORD 12,000 Mile GUARANTEE

What make of tires are you now using? Western Giant Cords will give you equal or better service. This may seem like a broad statement, but we know that the quality of material, the design, durability and appearance of Western Giants are so much superior to the many tires now on the market that are so much alike, that we have put upon them a 12,000-mile guarantee and the "Western Auto" name.

Western Giants Are Different

Their extra heavy raised tread balances its sturdy carcass so that Western Giants wear nearly twice as long as an ordinary tire before the tread is gone. Non-skid features are retained for practically the life of the tire. Chains are not necessary and the inherent strength and durability of Western Giants makes them worthy of every motorist's consideration.

12,000-Mile Guaranty

When you buy tires you buy so many miles of service. The only assurance that you will get this service is the responsibility of the house from which you buy your tire. Western Auto guarantees Western Giant cords 12,000 miles, and backs that guaranty in a way that you can't help but see we have your interest at heart always.

Great Value

Enormous production and distribution through our 50 stores results in economies that mean a saving to you of about 20 to 30% on the purchase price of Western Giants.

"Western Auto" handles only tires that have been tried and proven over a period of time, and that can be liberally guaranteed with a guarantee that means what it says. Western Auto quantity distribution makes possible price considerably lower.

PHARIS TIRES

For 8 years Pharis tires have been building a reputation for quality at a reasonable price in Western Auto stores. Consistent high mileage and freedom from trouble have made them the choice of thousands of motorists throughout the West.

NEBRASKA TIRES

No matter how little you pay for a tire, you don't save money unless you get the mileage. It's miles you are buying, not fabric and rubber. You'll pay less for your tire here, but in the Nebraska you'll get a good tire that is absolutely backed by us to give 100% service.

COMMENT

THAT'S ALL
Progressive Spirit Essential
Sweet Memories of Sacrifice
Something About Autos
Radiate California Sunshine
By Gil A. Cowan

GETTING the other fellow's viewpoint is half of the battle won in this old world of ours. Many times seemingly unreasonable things have more reason than is at first suspected.

It was good yesterday afternoon to hear the Glendale Chamber of Commerce directors, the advertising committee, and others, frankly discuss problems confronting that organization.

After all was said and done, everyone felt satisfied that everyone else is working to the same end—the building of a better and greater Glendale, regardless of their occupation, political leaning or religious faith.

Of course, politics and religious matters do not enter into the scope of the Chamber of Commerce, but surely a great deal of good can come of it just the same. The spirit of progress in civic life is as essential as Christianity.

Memorial day services will be held tomorrow in Glendale at the churches, with some special program arranged, as reported in the news columns.

This affords the opportunity to many for attending church and thereby strengthen the cherished memory of those who have gone forth from this earth.

Any Memorial day, any memorial hour or any moment of silence in memory of the departed is a solemn event, a soul-searching incident in the lives of the living and a declaration of principle that those dear dead ones have not perished in vain.

Many die that more may live and in the sustained life there is a lesson of sacrifice which cannot be said in words. Silence and reverence and sweet music, combined with flowers strewn on the grave, bespeak the communal prayer that there is a hereafter, a full and just reward for service to fellow man.

And sweeter music never sounded than "taps" blown on the bugle.

There are many American Legion members, and former service men in Glendale, who might well recall to the Legion, who will recall rolling into their blankets after a tiresome day in camp and their last dreamy thought of life when the bugle sounded the farewell call of night.

Now for another timely topic: The Los Angeles city council is adopting a perfectly reasonable ordinance in keeping motor cars off street car tracks except in cases where it is unavoidable.

Last night in Los Angeles one city car narrowly avoided three serious smashups only because the motorman was on the alert while going across town on Broadway.

First one fool trick after another until it is a wonder that any of these street railway employees are less than nervous wrecks.

"They have a lot of confidence in a motorman," this particular fellow observed. "Or do they just trust to luck?"

Likely the latter.

Many owners or private garages are protecting auto thieves inadvertently, according to the theft bureau of the Auto club which announces it is going to make a tremendous drive against the practice of renting space to unknown parties.

It is said that every time you rent a garage to a stranger, this stranger may be an auto thief. By reporting the fact to the local club officials, they may investigate and satisfy themselves that the car or cars, as the case may be, have not been stolen.

Approximately $500,000 in stolen autos is now hidden in private garages throughout southern California, says the club's theft bureau, and the thieves have learned that this is the safest way to escape detection. The cars are hidden in the garages until the chase blows over.

Now that the W. C. T. U. convention has drawn to a successful close, it gives a day or two in which to prepare for the realtors' caravan. Then comes the Rotarians and the Shriners and others, many of whom will visit in Glendale.

Get out the "glad rags," folks, and make the strangers in our midst "feel to home." Let the California sunshine radiate in every Glendale face. Let the wave of the hand, the sociable chat or the extension of some simple courtesy prove that we are not the penny-grabbing, profiteering bunch of summer resort promoters that some people from the east are prone to believe.

And show these visitors your "home town" paper so they may get acquainted more quickly. Telephone The Glendale Evening News any items about visitors here so that others from their section of the country will know they are here and where to find them.

That will do more to make them feel their trip to the coast worth while than almost any other one thing you can do for your guests. Did you ever notice how the Mt. Lowe Daily News mentions every visitor to that resort? Well, it is the best little publicity stunt you ever saw. Let's work it here.

—the delays; scorched, torn and lost pieces; extra expense for soap, starch and delivery; being without clean clothes and fresh linens when you need them most; the general uncertainty and dissatisfaction of being dependent for service upon someone you know little of and less about the conditions under which your clothes are washed—figure it up, and you are certain to be convinced that our service is not only better, but more economical than servant labor.

C. L. Bowman Tells

About Time Death

Rides at Throttle

"The draw was open and the big iron horse was clipping off eighty miles an hour with her tons of human freight in the Pullmans behind. Closer and closer she came to the bridge without any signs of slowing down. The fireman stood in bewilderment. He wondered what was the cause for the fast approach to the open draw."

"Gazing at the engineer he thought his partner stood as transfixed. A slight nudge proved his contention—death had come to the faithful engineer. Like a flash the fireman closed the throttle and applied the air brakes and, with a series of jerks, the big Burlington locomotive came to a stop, just three train lengths from the open draw."

With this story of early days on the Burlington route between Bluefield and Kansas City, C. L.
Bowman, a retired engineer who resides at 350 West Hawthorne street, related to a party of friends yesterday some of the thrills men experience who earn their living railroading.

Bowman hasn't railroaded for many years, resigning his post with the Burlington route after a paralytic stroke. The former trainman was pulling a heavy freight many years ago when he was afflicted, but luckily the affliction was observed in time by his mates to prevent an accident.

Since that time and until his arrival in Glendale, Mr. Bowman had been seeking a place to live where he could enjoy life and now he intends to watch the trains roll by through Glendale until the Great Conductor puts out the stop signal.

W. A. Tanner Pleased
By Record of Buick

W. A. Tanner of Tanner & Hall, Ltd., cannot help but be greatly impressed by the fact that a woman broke the road record in a Buick coupe between San Francisco and Portland, making that trip in 22 hours and 43 minutes, or more than three hours less than ever before.

It was an official record in every respect as reported by telegraph. Mr. Tanner states, and he says that the run proves the sturdiness of every Buick model.
To say nothing of the fact that Mrs. Z. Kathleen Ayers, a society woman, was at the wheel.

LEGISLATION FOR EX-SERVICE MEN IS OUTLINED

When these men won the decisive battles of the world war at Chateau-Thierry, St. Mihiel and the Argonne they were recognized throughout the country, and even the nation, as 'the cream of the nation.' Are these same men now nothing but an army of spendthrifts and gamblers?

Present Program

Following Mr. Fitts' address the Legionnaires were furnished with a varied program of dancing, singing, several instrumental selections and a few impromptu three-minute speeches. Mr. and Mrs. George Larkin of this city, well-known motion picture and vaudeville stars, entertained with three special dancing numbers, each of which was enthusiastically encored. The dances were designated as "The Argentine Tango," "An Apache Dance," and "Modern Ballroom Dancing." They were accompanied by Herbert Henning on the piano and William Bode on the saxophone, who also rendered several selections.

Mayor Spencer Robinson was then asked for a few words, after which he sang the following songs, accompanied by Herbert Henning: "Mother of Mine," "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "Beautiful Island of Somewhere." He was followed by speeches from City Manager William H. Reeves, Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson and C. B. Guthrie, chairman of the Post building committee. The latter announced that a telegram had just been received from San Francisco stating that the option on the deal whereby the Glendale Legionnaires become the owners of the Glendale Sanitarium property was accepted and that "delivery will be made Monday."

The gathering closed with a toast to the American flag by Frank C. Weller, who was the toastmaster of the evening.

Marie Prevost Stars On Glendale Screen; Varied Vaudeville

"Does she dance, does she twist, does she do those little things you can't resist? I'll say she does!" You would think that old popular air was inspired by the heroine of "The Dangerous Little Demon," the Universal Special attraction at the Glendale theatre today. For the "demon" is a most fascinating creature as portrayed by the star, Marie Prevost, and the way she does things, causes panic in the hearts of all masculine bystanders. Dancing divinely and somewhat shockingly, she causes even the most blasé of her suitors to feel a thrill.

An attractive program of high class entertainment tonight, Honey-suckle and Violet, in their original vaudeville offering, "The Sculptor's Dream," should prove a hit in this artistic study of song and dance. The Harmony Trio, in a musical cycle, while the Dohertys, the well known funsters, will add materially to the quality of the bill.

Other Varieties Offered

Jack and Viola Gilbert, presenting "Varieties," should provide more laughter and Ray De Coss in his high class and character song studies rounds out the well balanced variety.

Picture lovers who are in the habit of thinking of Bebe Daniels as a fascinating little mad-cap, always up to pranks, will be interested in seeing how she handles a straight romantic role, that of a wistful little country drudge who had never had any fun and was too much afraid of the ugly rages of her guardians ever to have an impulse of light-hearted mischief.

Such is her role in "Nancy From Nowhere," which opens Sunday. Don't forget the evening recital, so be there at 7:30.

Buenos Aires has more than 500 drug stores and more than 600 perfume shops and beauty parlors.

timely and pleasing gift of tablets and pencils and to the Chamber of Commerce for its generous drive revealing the remarkable beauty of the city of Glendale.

War On Tobacco

"Comprehensive and systematic steps are being taken for the development of the Turkish tobacco at experimental stations. We send our earnest protest against the use of state or government funds for the furtherance of a so-called industry, the products of which are pernicious and degrading to all users. The increased use of cigarettes and tobacco by people of our youth and both sexes and especially by growing boys is a cause for alarm and a call to arms. The findings of famous physicians show the injurious effects of tobacco on digestion, nutrition, nerve cells, heart and blood vessels and emphasize the handicaps placed upon the users of cigarettes and tobacco. We will zealously continue our educational work concerning the effects of tobacco and all narcotics, thus fortifying our youth by scientific truth."

"We will work for the enforcement of our state law regarding the sale of cigarettes and tobacco to minors. We urge upon Christian people a deeper interest and a more hearty co-operation in the protection of our youth from this insidious and growing evil."

"It has become a common occurrence for women and girls to be placed behind tobacco counters. We singly and collectively seek to create public sentiment against the employment of girls and women at counters where tobacco products are being handled."

Prohibition Views

"The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Southern California views with alarm the stupendous efforts of the liquor interests through the use of deceptive propaganda to elect a wine and beer congress committed to amend the Volstead Act so as to weaken enforcement and finally destroy the eighteenth amendment."

"It calls upon all friends of prohibition to scrutinize with utmost care the record of every candidate for Congress and to support only those who have shown aggressiveness and faithfulness to the dry cause."

"It cannot approve the course of those members of the House and Senate from California who, during the present congress, failed to give unqualified support to the Anti-Beer bill."

"It cannot condone the failure of those members who, while professing allegiance to our cause voted for adjournment of the House of Representatives while the Anti-Beer bill was threatened with defeat by such adjournment."

"Our state university at Berkeley has free correspondence courses in agriculture and other avocations while the correspondence courses in scientific motherhood are not free. We believe that the care and training of our children is of even greater importance to the welfare of our state than the crops and livestock. We request the state board of health and those having the control of funds available through the law known as the Sheppard-Towner Maternity bill, that they set aside a portion of this fund to provide free correspondence courses for mothers on the care and training of children."

"We endorse the Sterling-Towner bill for the creation of a department of education in the government with a secretary in the president's cabinet and for federal aid to the states under specific conditions."

"We endorse the action now being taken in congress to pass an amendment to the constitution which would give Congress the right to regulate the conditions concerning the employment of children under 18 years of age."

Against Preparedness

"War has never settled differences among nations but always plants the seeds for further wars. Armament lays a heavy burden of taxation upon the people and does not secure peace. We are against the policy of armed preparedness, which is responsible for the army and navy bills now before congress and work for sane preparedness which recognizes that justice is better served in conferences of peace and courts of arbitration than in conflict of arms."

HARDING SIGNS BILL

WASHINGTON, May 27.—President Harding today signed the Miller bill which strikes a death blow at the illicit traffic in opium and narcotics by effectively barring the importation and transportation of drugs in the United States except for medicinal purposes. A commission of cabinet officials is set up under the law to administer the provisions of the new legislation.
